

THE HEAD OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT PRESENTED THE CONCEPT OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL REFORMS

30.05.2014 15:46

The Chamber of Advocates of the RA received the President of the RA Constitutional Court Gagik Harutyunyan and Prosecutor General of the RA Gevorg Kostanyan. The President of the RA Constitutional Court Gagik Harutyunyan represented the main provisions of the concept of the constitutional reforms. Gagik Harutyunyan talked particularly about the human rights and about the suggested changes regarding to the Judicial branch. Prosecutor General of the RA Gevorg Kostanyan also had a speech mentioning that he has been participating to the public debate in the professional groups on the concept of constitutional reforms for the first time and he stressed the importance to participate to that discussion with the advocates.

The Chairman of the Chamber of Advocates mentioned, that the changes of the governing form suggested by the concept will, in some sense, hinder the professional sound discussions regarding to the reforms of human rights, as public has an impression that the reforms of human rights are of a secondary importance.

GAgik Harutyunyan and Gevorg Kostanyan answered to the advocates' questions, which are mainly associated with the two - stage court system and with the investment of the institute of juries. Regarding to this Gevorg Kostanyan said "That the circumstance brings to such kind of solutions that we must do systemic changes to bring it to the perfection and not vice versa, which does not develop the right, and I have a deep conviction to be present especially I myself to the advocates meetings, why, because in the professional field the discussions are more effective for me and for all. And according to discussions with you I can form my approaches". Referring to the structure and the functions of judicial branch Gevorg Kostanyan mentioned, that according to the current Constitution all the margins of the Courts are marked, but in our life in Armenia the margins are endless, uncertain and vague.

BACK $(window).load(function(){ if(typeof $(".fb_comments_count").html() != "undefined" && parseInt($(".fb_comments_count").html()) != 0){ updateCommentsCount(window.location.href); } })